LYNCHBURG, Va. (AP) — A pack of German shepherd dogs attacked and killed two small boys Sunday while their father fought futilely to save them by clubbing the animals with a rake.

The attack, near a creek behind the victims' home in nearby Madison Heights, included two neighborhood dogs the boys apparently had played with before.

The victims were Gene Anthony Goodman, 4, and Kenneth Goodman, 3, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene H. Goodman of Madison Heights.

Goodman and his wife are in Lynchburg General Hospital where they are being treated for shock.

Amherst County Sheriff-elect Mahlon H. Bryant said Goodman, sobbing, told him that when he reached the snarling pack he beat at the frenzied animals with a rake, his shoes and anything else he could find to turn them away from his bloodied sons.

Two of the dogs were impounded by local authorities. A third could not be caught and was shot to death. Police were looking for a fourth dog but said there may have been only three in the attack.

Bryant said Mrs. Goodman was inside her home at about 3:30 p.m. with her other child, Cindy, 1, when she heard screams from the creek. She called to her husband then ran to a neighbor's house for help.

"I was lying in bed when she knocked on the door," said Morton P. Scott. "My wife let her in and she was crying said some dogs had her boys down by the creek."

"My daughter's a nurse and helped her back up to the house. I ran on over the hill and met Goodman coming up the hill all dazed. He was carrying one poor bloody little body and he said the dogs had the other boy down by the creek."

Robbers Force Hat Passing

WEST GROVE, Pa. (AP) — Three robbers forced the assistant minister to "pass the hat" during services Sunday night and made off with $100 from the United Church of Christ near this Chester County town, police said.

Police said the robbers, carrying guns and wearing ski masks, forced assistant minister Roland Johnson to pass a pillow case among the congregation to collect money.

Then they fled in a parishioner's car.

"rock plunge" at noon Sunday. An old friend, Alan Stewart, walked out into the surf a good distance behind Holt and watched him dive and disappear beneath the waves.

Stewart said the surf was too rough for him, and when the prime minister failed to surface, he ran to give the alarm.

"Like President Kennedy he was not given time to show what he could do," said the Sydney Morning Herald. "The great tasks to which he set himself were unfinished. The war in Vietnam still rages. The withdrawal of Britain from the Far East has only just begun. Australia's relationship with her neighbors in Asia are still shadowy and undefined."

Holt had 692 days in office after taking over from Sir Robert Menzies. He stood staunchly by President Johnson's Vietnam policy, defending the bombing of North Vietnam and refusing to accept a settlement which would give victory to the Communists. Six thousand Australian troops are fighting with the allies in South Vietnam.

Very much the maker of his own foreign policy, Holt made two far-ranging tours through Asia, three to Britain and the United States, and attended the summit conference of Vietnam allies in Manila.

The Holt family: his wife, Zara, his three stepsons, and their wives spent the night at the family's compound at Portsea.

At a Christmas carol program in Sydney's Hyde Park, a throng of 15,000 was shocked by the announcement of Holt's disappearance, and looked heads in silent prayer. One woman broke the silence with a loud sob, "My God, my God!"

Jones wrote the majority opinion.

Jones wrote, "There can be no doubt about the fact that the lawmakers . . . meant to make certain that the person chosen to be director would be familiar by first-hand observation with the varied and complex problems of law enforcement that confront the State Police Department. No other convincing reason for the 10-year residency requirement has been brought to our attention."

Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell issued an opinion June 30 saying Davis, an FBI agent for more than five years, did not meet this requirement. Rockefeller went ahead and appointed Davis and said the matter should be resolved in the courts.

Davis, 34, a native of Texarkana, Ark., lived in Wake Village, Tex., for more than a year before he joined the FBI.

One of his acts while serving with the FBI apparently played a major role in the court's decision. While in Wyoming, Davis registered to vote, although he actually never voted.

The high court said the major question in the case was whether Davis met the residential test "that the legislature—the final authority in the matter—has seen fit to impose?"

"Upon this question the undisputed facts speak so strongly for themselves that hardly any comment by the court is necessary," Jones wrote.

"In a case as clear cut as this one, we need not enter upon an extended discussion of the technical distinctions between 'residence,' which ordinarily means physical presence within the jurisdiction . . . and 'domicile,' which differs from mere 'residence' by including the subjective intent to maintain one's permanent home in the jurisdiction."

The opinion also said that even if the high court had agreed with Wood, who said only domicile was required, Davis still could not prevail.

The high court noted that Wyoming's constitution and law on voter registration defines residence as a place in which a person's habitation is fixed and to which, if he is absent, he has an intention of returning.

The court said the registration "completely negates any vague and indefinite expressions (by Davis) of a desire to return to Arkansas, insofar as determination of place of domicile is concerned."

"The point of controlling importance, which cannot possibly be swept under the judicial rug, is that the legislature meant for the police director to have actually lived in the state for 10 years next preceding his appointment," Jones wrote.

He said Davis had lived outside the state for more than seven of those 10 years.

The court's opinion came down on its final day before its Christmas holiday recess.

Among a small crowd in the courtroom were Davis' attorney, Robert Shults of Little Rock, and two aides to Rockefeller, legal adviser G. Thomas Elsele and press aide Bill Conley.

Also in the courtroom were Asst. Attys. Gen. Don Langston and Henry Ginger, who wrote the original opinion from Purcell's office.

Rockefeller had said that if Davis were ruled ineligible, State Police operations would continue smoothly under a logical chain of command.

Ward, who announced last week that he would retire from the high court next year after completing his third six-year term, said he did not think the law required actual physical presence in the state and that Davis' time spent in Texas was on necessary private business.

Ward said great stress was placed on Davis' registering to vote in Wyoming.

"The trial judge did not think, and I do not think, any such intention (to make Wyoming his permanent home) is reasonable deductible," Ward said.

He said Davis' residence in Wyoming for more than a year gave him a legal right to vote.

"How anyone can conclude from that incident (registration), Davis did or could have meant to abandon his domicile in Arkansas is beyond my comprehension," Ward said.

At the luncheon, the table was decorated with holly, red velvet ribbon and candles, and covers were laid for 10. In lieu of a formal program, members took part in reminiscence of Christmas-times past. They also exchanged gifts.

LILAC CLUB HOLDS CHRISTMAS PARTY

Mrs. Jewel Burke and Mrs. C. R. Samuel were hostesses for the DeAnn Lilac Garden Club's Christmas party Wednesday night, December 13 in the Burke home. After the president, Mrs. J. C. Burke, had opened the meeting, one of the hostesses, Mrs. Samuel, read the Christmas story in Luke 2 for the devotional message. This was followed with prayer by Mrs. Hollis Samuel.

Yuletide decorations filled the place of entertainment from greenery on the mantle to a lightly decorated tree. The package brought by Miss Little Clark was judged to be the best-wrapped one, and second place went to Mrs. Hollis Samuel. The judges were the two guests, Mrs.

Beda Carver and Miss Toni Burke.

From beneath the golden Christmas tree gifts were distributed by Mrs. Jewel Burke and Toni. The group of 19 went into the den to be served Russian tea, coffee, and an assortment of dainty refreshments.

LUNCHEON FOR BRIDE-ELECT

A luncheon honoring Miss Janet Ellis, bride-elect of William Dillard, II of Little Rock, was given on Thursday, December 14 in the home of Mrs. Comer Boyett. The honoree was attired in blue wool and pinned a corsage of deep pink camellias at her shoulder.

Pink camellias were seen in the living room, and white mums graced the dining table where covers were laid for 12. They included the mothers of the engaged couple, Mrs. William Dillard of Little Rock and Mrs. Fred Ellis, and Mrs. Kenneth Paddle, sister of the bride-elect.

A gift of silver was presented to Miss Ellis by the hostess.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Truman Capote's short story, "Among the Paths to Eden" was translated Sunday night into a poignant, sometimes painful, television vignette. The subject was empty lives and loneliness.

It was the story of a middle-aged, plain spinster desperately trying to find a husband, and it was beautifully acted by a pair of skilled, sensitive performers.

The woman's hunting ground was a cemetery, because one of her married friends had told her that there were "always widows" walking around.

The ABC story opened with the woman standing among mourners at an open grave, awkwardly making conversation with men. Soon she wandered on to find a man planting flowers at his dead wife's grave. After making some tentative advances, she learned he was on the verge of remarrying—and moved on quickly.

Eventually she encountered another man putting some flowers on his wife's grave. Largely through her insistence, they struck up a conversation.

In the course of the conversation, with her desperate efforts to attract him, all of her lonely, barren life revealed itself and, more reluctantly, so did his.

There was one curious scene where, in her eagerness to impress him, she perched on a corner of his wife's headstone and gave him her impression of Helen Morgan singing a blues song. At the end, he gently rebuffed her, and at the end, she was following another man, who might be a widower, to another part of the graveyard.

Morton Stapleton played the drab, shy spinster with insight and with spurs of inept boldness that chilled the spectator. Martin Balsam, as the widower, brought to the role just the right touches of sympathy and gentleness, even when he was brushing her off.

"PBI," the experimental current events series seen Sunday nights on educational stations, had a fiery confrontation as Edward P. Morgan conducted—or tried to conduct—a dialogue on the subject of police and their relationship to minority groups.

It sometimes turned into a shouting match. Tempers flared, and one Negro clergyman in Detroit became so enraged that he snatched off his ear phone and declared as far as he was concerned, the session was over.

They Come Clean To remove stubborn white mineral deposits from glass cookware, half fill the cook wear with very hot water and two tablespoons of vinegar. Boil for a few minutes then wash in hot suds and rinse.

MERCENARY ABOUT MATRIMONY Dear Helen: My daughter is 25, attractive, but can't seem to keep a boyfriend. After four or five months, off they go to someone else.

She is now dating a man she'd like to marry, but I say "No!" Here's why. He told her the girl he left behind had $2,500 to put on furniture and a car, and her parents would stake her to a big wedding which would bring in expensive presents. Now he's asking how much my daughter has saved and can we afford a posh wedding? Actually, she can top the other girl's bid, and I'm afraid she is just desperate enough to say so, in order to have a "Mrs." label.

Please knock some sense into her head.—MRS. T.K.

Dear Mrs. K: If your daughter is this desperate for a "Mrs." label, nothing I say will change her. Unless the fellow finds a wealthier dame quick, I'm afraid she'll have to learn the hard way that when you buy a husband you hardly ever get a MAN.—H.

Dear Helen: When I found out I was pregnant, I deliberately got the father drunk enough so that we went across the state line and got married.

A month later his sister told me another girl was expecting his baby, but my husband denied it was his. Our babies were born two days apart, in the same hospital. She told everybody who the father was, and you can imagine how embarrassing it was for us. He wouldn't even visit me at the hospital until she checked out.

In spite of how I "tricked" him, we got along fine. But I worry about the other girl. She isn't making trouble, she's just "there." I get the feeling she is waiting patiently until I can't take it any longer, and then she'll move in. She seems to turn up wherever we are, and the talk doesn't die down because she ever so casually keeps it alive.

I could manage an open fight, but how can I cope with a walking conscience? And will my husband finally choose for the girl who didn't make demands?—HAT NITED

Dear Haunted: Stop worrying. Your husband has proved that you are the wife he wants. He won't leave you for a "walking conscience" who can't manage an open fight.

After years of toiling as Betty Anderson Harrington Cord in television's passion pit, Peyton Place, she has jumped to a starring role in a film, also a passion pit, "Valley of the Dolls."

"I was so happy doing a picture. After three years in one role, you like to run off to another area. Doing the film was much more difficult. I got much more involved in the role. When there is time, you go more deeply into the character. But those long pauses between scenes were a problem. I spent so much time sitting around I lost my energy." She is sorry the film was cut to its present length, feeling it lost some story impetus. "But I know 20th Century-Fox will make a lot of money out of it. Did I like myself in it? I guess I'll never be satisfied. I was pleased with moments, but there were others I'd like to do over. But I learned a lot of things."

Barbara has made a big career strides in the three years since, as a complete unknown, she was signed for a few appearances in Peyton Place and made such an impact her character was not killed, as was originally planned.

Anita Is Home for Christmas

By JOAN GROSSBY
NEA Entertainment Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Instead of being in Vietnam on Christmas, Anita Bryant will be in Miami on New Year's Eve, and it's hard to tell which is more dangerous.

For the first time since her marriage to Bob Green in 1960, Anita and Bob and their two children will be having a Christmas at home. The past years she has been on Bob Hope's holiday tour. Because she will be at home (the Greens live in Miami), she has been able to accept an offer to be hostess of the Orange Bowl Jamboree Parade, telecast on NBC-TV on Dec. 30. She will be working with another Vietnam entertainment veteran, Raymond Burr.

"I bet you don't remember the first Christmas tree we had together," Bob said to Anita.

"Wasn't it a pineapple decorated with candy?" Anita said. "You see, Bob is my manager, so he has always been able to go with me on these tours. That was my very first Christmas away from my family in Oklahoma. Now our children are at the age when they would miss us if we were away at Christmas."

Anita is a wife and mother first and a career woman second. She is a top record seller for Columbia, and she keeps busy with television appearances, commercials and industrial shows. If she concentrated her entire efforts on her career she could, with her looks and beautiful, deep voice, be a top star. But that

Lady Cats Lose Out in Finals

By RALPH ROUSTON
Star Sports Editor

In a tight game last Friday night at Gurdon, the Hope Bobcats fell to the surprising Go Devils by a 60-58 count. The Bobcats, however, won their first game of the season, coming out on top by 30-25.

Because this writer is also employed by KJAR, it was necessary for me to go to Arkadelphia last week for the purpose of broadcasting. My apologies go to the Hope Bobcats, team and coaches, and they probably can feel discriminated against as their game goes uncovered.

Such is not the case, because since I took the job of Hope Star Sports Editor back in March, it has been my goal to attempt to cover every athletic event which had a local team participating. When there are conflicts, choices have to be made as to which game to take in, and these decisions are assuredly hard to make. Past Star Sports Editors have concentrated more on the Bobcats than others, which may be right. Still, I feel obligated to cover the other teams equally.

The Hope Lady Cats were, more or less, snubbed by everyone during their lean years when 2-15 records were common. It was also during this same period that the Hope Bobcats built up a dynasty in Region 4-AA, earning state tournament positions for nearly a solid decade. Now, ten years later, the Hope Lady Cats are able to beat nearly everyone around, as their 2-4 record shows, with three of those defeats coming to Bradley, best in the state.

Therefore, this writer will attempt during the next few months to follow no one in particular, but to give reporting on the Jr. and Sr. Girls, Jr. and Sr. boys, and the "B" team. Regrettably, I have no accounts of the Gurdon games' action, but this will not happen again.

This evening the Bobcats and Lady Cats play two games with Ashdown at Jones Field House, beginning at 6:30. KJAR will broadcast both games, but your attendance is hoped for tonight, with two fine games on tap.

Night of the Hat in the Hockey League

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was the Night of the Hat in the National Hockey League but little Pit Martin deserves at least a cap.

It was Martin's goal with 6:2 minutes left to play that broke a scoreless tie and started the Chicago Black Hawks to a 2-0 victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs Sunday night.

That moved the Hawks, who dropped their first six games this season, into a tie with the Boston Bruins for the NHL's East Division lead. Chicago has lost just three of the last 25 games since snapping the losing streak.

Elsewhere Sunday, Red Gilbert's three-goal hat trick led New York to a 3-1 victory over St. Louis. Detroit's Norm Ullman and Montreal's Jean Beliveau traded three-goal performances as the Red Wings outlasted the Canadiens 4-3, and Philadelphia snatched Pittsburgh 2-1.

Martin, acquired in the six-player trade that sent Phil Esposito and Fred Stanfield to Boston, has been hampered by injuries and managed only four goals before Sunday.

But the 5-foot-6, 156-pound center was in the right spot when Eric Nesterenko dug the puck out from behind the Toronto net and fired in front. Martin rammed the puck between goalie Johnny Bower and the left post. Until then, it seemed Bower and Chicago's Denis DeJordy were headed for a scoreless tie. After Martin scored, Doug Madsen hit an open net with power off for an extra attack.

Gilbert, the Rangers' leading scorer with 26 goals last year, snapped an eight-game slump with his third career hat trick. Two of the goals came in the first period as the Rangers raced to a 3-0 lead.

After two goals by rookie Tim Fontaine and one by veteran Dickie Moore tied the score, Phil Goyette and Gilbert hit in the third period, putting New

Lashes Out at Boycott of Olympics

NEW YORK (AP) — Douglas F. Roby, president of the U.S. Olympic Committee, said Sunday that a boycott by Negro athletes of the 1968 Olympic Games "would be equivalent to somebody trying to burn down his own home."

The committee issued a formal statement in reply to the boycott in vehement support by several Negro athletes as a protest against American racial policies.

The statement invited "all qualified American athletes to try out for the 1968 teams in all Olympic sports" and promised "equal treatment in the manner of selection, in housing and in feeding."

Roby said, "Anyone, regardless of color, can be on our team and be treated as an equal."

Rams Jolt Colts for Zone Title

By DICK COUCH

Johnny Unitas spent an endless hour hurrying in the wrong direction . . . and watching Los Angeles turn the National Football League's Coastal showdown into a Roman carnival.

Roman Gabriel, the Rams' star game-planned quarterback, eclipsed superstar Unitas Sunday by firing three touchdown passes as Los Angeles durbled the previously unbeaten Baltimore Colts 24-10 for the Coastal Division title.

While Gabriel connected on 18 of 22 passes for 257 yards—to the delight of 77,277 revelers in the Los Angeles Coliseum—the Rams' defense hurried Unitas into two costly interceptions and dropped the NFL's Most Valuable Player seven times for losses totaling 45 yards.

"The crux of our defensive plan for this game," said LA Coach George Allen, "was not to allow Unitas enough time to throw the ball."

In snapping Baltimore's 13-game unbeaten streak, the Rams extended their own winning string to eight games and advanced into next Saturday's Western Conference championship playoff against Green Bay's Central Division kings.

Los Angeles and Baltimore tied 24-24 in their first meeting and finished in an 11-12 deadlock. The Rams, however, got the title and by virtue of their point edge in the two games against the Colts.

The Packers, who nailed the Central crown three weeks ago, were upset by Pittsburgh 24-17 Sunday. New York pounded St. Louis 37-14. New Orleans stunned Washington 30-14. Philadelphia topped Cleveland's Century champs 28-24. Chicago beat Atlanta 23-14 and Detroit trimmed Minnesota 14-3 in other games.

Dallas' Capitol Division winners, who meet Cleveland for the Eastern Conference championship next Sunday, bowed to San Francisco 24-15 Saturday.

In Sunday's American Football League action, Oakland belted New York 36-29. Miami outscored Boston 41-32 and Kansas City trimmed Denver 28-14. Houston topped San Diego 24-17 Saturday.

Trailing 7-3 early in the second quarter, the Rams took charge on Gabriel's 60-yard scoring strike to Jack Snow and 23-yard TD pass to Bernie Casey. The second score followed Ed Meador's interception of a Unitas pass, thrown while Jones was draped over the Colt quarterback's shoulders.

Los Angeles boosted its lead to 20-7 in the third quarter on Bruce Gossett's second field goal. After Lou Michaels booted a three-pointer for the Colts, Gabriel capped a 67-yard drive with a nine-yard payoff pitch to Billy Truax.

The Rams' final touchdown, scored by Dick Bass from two yards out, came after Unitas was dropped at his own four-yard line for an eight-yard loss on fourth down.

"We played our best game of the year and put everything together," Allen said. "Green Bay? I'd like to enjoy Baltimore first."

End Ben McGee rammed 21 yards with a deflected Green Bay pass for one touchdown and tackle Chuck Hinton plodded 27 yards with a recovered fumble for another score as Pittsburgh's defensive unit wrecked the Packers, who substituted freely in their final pre-playoff tune-up.

New York's Fran Tarkenton tossed four touchdown passes—two to Aaron Thomas—as the Giants overpowered injury-plagued St. Louis and captured second place in the Century race.

The Saints nailed Washington punt returner John Love for a third-quarter safety, breaking a 7-7 tie, and struck again 19 seconds later on Randy Schultz' one-yard TD plunge following Walter Roberts' 60-yard free kick puntback. They pulled away on Bill Kilmer's second TD pass to Don Bryant and Don McColl's 49-yard scoring jaunt.

Norm Head threw three scoring passes against the Browns, who tested several regulars and went all the way with third string quarterback Gary Lane. Sam Baker kicked four extra points for the Eagles and moved into third place on the all-time NFL scoring list with 824 career points—one more than Don Hutson, the former Green Bay flash.

Gale Sayers ran 51 yards for a touchdown, caught a 32-yard TD pass from Jack Concannon and finished with 120 rushing yards in Chicago's triumph over the

Vanderbilt Opens Own Tournament

By RON RAPOPORT

Third-ranked Vanderbilt, which survived a determined bid by an underdog, and sixth-ranked Boston College, which didn't, lead the way into college basketball's annual round of holiday tournaments this week.

The Commodores, who outlasted Duke 70-75 Saturday night, open their own invitational tournament in Nashville, Tenn., Friday with a game against Seton Hall. Oregon meets Wake Forest in the other first-round game.

The Eagles, upset in 91-59 overtime by St. John's, N.Y., meet North Carolina State Wednesday in a first-round game in the Boston Garden's invitational. Providence and LaSalle are also in the tournament.

Fourth-ranked Kentucky, which lost to North Carolina last week, hosts its tournament which opens Friday in Lexington, Ky. The Colonels play Dayton while Cincinnati meets South Carolina.

Other tournaments that get under way this week are: Tampa, Fla., Invitational, which begins Wednesday, with Seattle, Rutgers, Auburn and St. Bonaventure.

Marshall tournament at Huntington, W. Va., which begins Wednesday with Manhattan, Bowling Green, Marshall and Virginia.

Sun Carnival at El Paso, Tex., which begins Thursday, with Maryland, the University of Texas at El Paso, Southern Illinois and San Francisco.

Sun Devil Classic at Phoenix, Ariz., which begins Thursday, with Michigan, Arizona State, Oregon State and Oklahoma State.

In addition, the tournament that started over the weekend, the Virginia-VMI Invitational at Blacksburg, Va., finishes up tonight with Yale and Virginia playing for the championship.

Vanderbilt's victory over Duke Saturday came as Bob Wynn's 25-foot jumper, shot with two seconds left, beat the Blue Devils, who had a 10-0 straight, had taken the lead with 26 seconds to play at Mike Lewis' jumper.

St. John's won a 77-75 thriller by John Warren with 27 seconds left in overtime Sunday. The victory offset a 64-point performance by Boston College's Terry Driscoll, who led a second-half comeback after the Eagles trailed 18-11 at half-time.

Seventh-ranked North Carolina bounced Pittsburgh 74-60 from the unbeaten ranks Saturday, doubling the figure 71-63. Sophomore Charlie Scott had 17 points for the Tar Heels.

Ninth-ranked Indiana beat North Carolina State 101-97 with sophomore Joe Bower's 27 points, leading the way. Calvin Murphy, Niagara's star, kept his team pumped in 52 points, leading his team to a 100-83 victory over LaSalle.

Both Teams Cold But the Hawks Win

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., is not known as a basketball town, and somebody must have led the St. Louis Hawks and the San Francisco Warriors.

On the two National Basketball Association teams played Sunday night as scheduled, but they didn't exactly play basketball. With a large crowd of spectators, the Hawks won 104-99.

The Hawks made less than 40 percent of their field goal attempts. The Warriors made just 26 percent of theirs. The Hawks won 75-74.

San Francisco was particularly sharp in the second half, leading 44-47 at intermission. The Warriors were able to make only 10 of 27 shots in the second half, but still won the game.

The Hawks' lead was 40-30 at the end of the first half. The Hawks' lead was 40-30 at the end of the first half. The Hawks' lead was 40-30 at the end of the first half.

Coach Lashes Officials as His Jets Lose

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Coach Weeb Ewbank thinks the New York Jets were at a disadvantage after the opening kickoff, Maybe. But one thing is certain—they are at a disadvantage now.

"This will probably cost me money, but I've got to say it," Ewbank fumed after Sunday's 38-29 loss to the Oakland Raiders.

He then scolded the officials "for letting the game get out of hand. I thought the officiating was poor. I feel we were at a disadvantage after the kickoff."

Ewbank's criticism not only most likely will cost him money in the form of a league fine, the loss very likely will cost the Jets a shot at the American Football League title.

The Jets, 7-5-1, now trail Houston, 24-17 winner over San Diego Saturday, by one game in the Eastern Division race. Houston can win the title and the right to meet Western Division champion Oakland, 12-1-0, for the league crown by beating Miami next Saturday. The Jets play San Diego next Sunday.

In other AFL games Sunday, Kansas City trounced Denver 38-24 and Miami outlasted Boston 41-32.

Los Angeles whipped Baltimore 34-10, Pittsburgh upset Green Bay 24-17, Chicago stung Atlanta 23-14, New Orleans surprised Washington 30-14, New York ripped St. Louis 37-14, Philadelphia edged Cleveland 28-24 and Detroit topped Minnesota 14-3 in the National Football League Sunday. San Francisco beat Dallas 24-16 Saturday.

The Jets' Joe Namath, who set an AFL season record of 3,650 yards passing, threw for 356 yards and three touchdowns but took a beating in the process—suffering a possible fractured right cheek bone.

Namath, who was spitting blood during the game, said he didn't know when or how the injury occurred and refused to Miami broke its game open with a 28-point second quarter. Two of the touchdowns in the spurt came on Bob Griese passes, two came on interceptions.

Boston Has Swept Team Batting Honors

BOSTON (AP) — The pennant-winning Boston Red Sox, with Triple Crown winner Carl Yastrzemski leading the way, virtually swept team batting honors in the American League for 1967.

The official figures released Saturday by League President Joe Cronin showed that Boston took team honors with a .255 batting average, 158 home runs, 666 runs batted in, 722 runs scored, 1,394 hits, and 2,162 total bases. They tied Minnesota for the lead in doubles with 216.

The only major categories in which the Red Sox did not finish on top were triples and stolen bases, where the speed-minded

Bentonville 56, Rogers 46, first place

Kansas City Athletics showed the way with 50 and 132, respectively.

The figures showed Yastrzemski dominating the individual statistics. The slugging outfielder won his second batting title with a .326 mark and also led in runs batted in with 121 while tying Minnesota's Harmon Killebrew for the home run championship with 44 to win the Triple Crown Honor.

In addition, Yaz topped the league in hits (189), total bases (360) and runs scored (112), while his 31 doubles put him second to Minnesota's Tony Oliva, who led with 34.

Other departmental leaders included Baltimore's Paul Blair with 12 triples and Kansas City's speedy Bert Campaneris, who led in stolen bases for the third straight year with a career high of 55.

The only other .300 hitters among those qualifying for batting honors with 502 or more plate appearances were Detroit's Al Kaline, reaching the charmed circle for the eighth time in his career at .308, and Boston's George Scott at .303.

Bisons Could Take Over First Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Hugh Groover's Harding Bisons have an opportunity tonight to take over undisputed possession of first place in the Pacific Northwest Athletic Conference basketball race.

Harding plays Hendrix at Conway and a victory would give the Bisons a 5-1 record and first place in the conference for more than two weeks.

Harding is currently tied for first with Arkansas College and Henderson but the Scots and Reddies don't have any more conference games until Jan. 5.

Ouachita finishes up the pre-Christmas vacation schedule at Northeast Louisiana tonight and McNeese State Tuesday night.

Eight of the AIC teams will compete in either one or both of the holiday tournaments Dec. 26-27 at Pine Bluff and Dec. 28-30 at Magnolia. Only Arkansas College and Ozarks are not competing in either of the tournaments.

Arkansas College defeated Philander Smith 83-75 Saturday night at Little Rock as Jim Canada scored 22 and Jim Haney and Bill Cossey tallied 21 each.

AM&N Can't Compete for Title

GRAMBLING, La. (AP)—The Southwest Athletic Conference decided here Saturday to prohibit Arkansas AM&N at Pine Bluff, Ark., from competing for any league championship during the next calendar year.

The SWAC also voted, at its annual mid-winter meeting, to fine AM&N $300. Both penalties were imposed for an incident where AM&N Football Coach Van Johnson took his team off the field in the third quarter of a game at Alcorn A&M.

The SWAC also levied stiff fines against Alcorn and Jackson State for the public conduct of school officials during a game between the two schools.

"PHANTOM" PHOTO shows action of new automated-dig cycle backhoe said to cut operator's labor by two-thirds. Pulling one lever triggers a series of pressure-sensing valves and cylinders to provide a heaping full bucket with each cycle. System automatically senses and corrects for varied digging conditions allowing new operators to work at speed of veterans. Machine was under development by Ford for more than three years.

Oswald: "Here is a letter from Prof. Nathan Divinsky of Vancouver, Canada. Dr. Divinsky reached five clubs and made it after East won the diamond opening and shifted to a trump. South ran off seven clubs and West hung on to the king of diamonds and four spades while East let all his diamonds go. Then a diamond trick established a diamond trick in declarer's hand and he discarded two hearts on dummy's good spades. The professor wonders just now East and West could find out about the spade situation."

Jim: "It is always particularly difficult to find out that a threat suit is no threat because it can't be led, but this time East-West might have found out. West should drop the three of diamonds on the third club and East the deuce. On the fourth club, West should discard the 10 of hearts and East the eight of diamonds."

Oswald: "In such situations each partner must trust the other implicitly. East will know West started with exactly five diamonds and West will know that East started with four. With an original six diamonds, West would discard a diamond on the fourth club. With three diamonds only, East would have discarded down and out and his play of the eight deuce and his lower diamond. Hence each would know that declarer could not hold more than two spades and hearts."

Jim: "On the fifth club, West should have let the 10 of spades go. This should inform East that West was still holding three spades, which upon East should drop the queen of spades."

Oswald: "This would require a lot of information on the part of East. He would know that if West started with three hearts and three spades, he would have thrown a second heart."

Jim: "If one can see you see all the cards. A really good player would be able to see all the cards of the table."

THE WELL CHILD

Child Should Outgrow Bad Dreams, Night Terrors

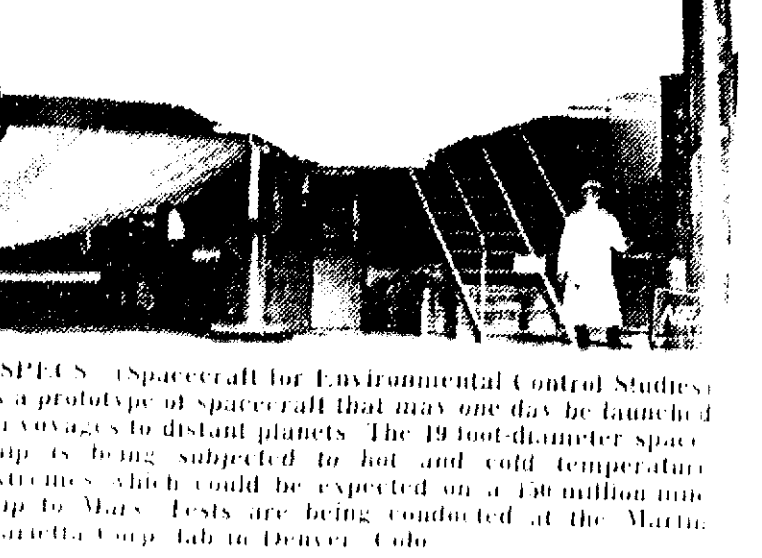

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

A mother writes that her daughter, 3, has been crying out in her sleep almost every night. Night terrors in children are most often seen between the ages of 3 and 8. These children are often nervous and high-strung or sickly. The most important steps a parent can take are to make the child's waking environment as calm as possible and, with the help of a pediatrician, get her in good physical condition. When she cries out at night the mother should go to her, get her to tell what was frightening her, then reassure her that it was all a bad dream and that everything is all right. With this treatment, the child should outgrow these spells in time.

Q—My 18-month-old son was born with a divided spine. What causes this? Would a child be likely to have the same defect?
A—When the right and left halves of the vertebral column fail to fuse at any point the child is born with spina bifida, a divided spine. The severity of the condition varies widely depending on several factors. The defect is fairly common, but the chances that a second child would have the condition are remote.

Q—My 18-month-old son gets bloodshot eyes from time to time. What causes this?
A—The most common cause is infection. If the inflammation accompanies a head cold it will clear up as the cold goes away. If he has no cold, allergy is a possibility. Soap in his eyes is another. You should consult your pediatrician to determine the exact cause so that the proper treatment can be prescribed.

Q—Two of my six children like to eat dirt. Is this harmful?
A—Maybe they have heard the old wives' tale that every child must eat a peck of dirt and they want to get it over with. This is not a good idea, however, because who can tell what germs or poison may be present in a random sample of dirt? A lack of iron, a more likely cause than a lack of vitamin, from dextran complex, children or iron deficiency anemia and children have eaten many children who have a bitter taste for dirt due to an iron deficiency. Both drugs require a doctor's prescription.

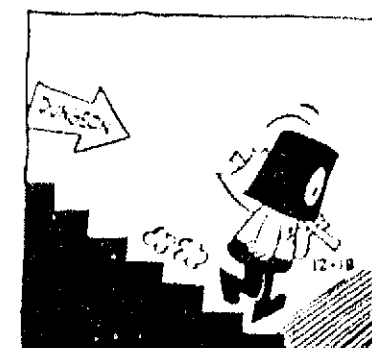

SPEC-1 (Spacecraft for Environmental Control Studies) is a prototype of space raft that may one day be launched on voyages to distant planets. The 19-foot-diameter space ship is being subjected to hot and cold temperature extremes which could be expected on a 150-million-mile trip to Mars. Tests are being conducted at the Martin Marietta Corp. Lab in Denver, Colo.

Threat Suit Is No Danger

By Oswald and James Jacoby

Oswald: "Here is a letter from Prof. Nathan Divinsky of Vancouver, Canada. Dr. Divinsky reached five clubs and made it after East won the diamond opening and shifted to a trump. South ran off seven clubs and West hung on to the king of diamonds and four spades while East let all his diamonds go. Then a diamond trick established a diamond trick in declarer's hand and he discarded two hearts on dummy's good spades. The professor wonders just now East and West could find out about the spade situation."

Denver May Get Olympic Winter Games

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Mile-high Denver, host to numerous international ice and snow events, is given a better than even chance of landing the 1976 Winter Olympic Games.

The Colorado capital received the strong backing of the U.S. Olympic Committee Sunday and the city turned its attention to the job of influencing delegates to the International Olympic Committee meeting at Antwerp, Belgium, in 1970.

That's when the 1976 site will be officially picked, as well as the grounds for the Summer Games of the same year.

The United States, celebrating its bi-centennial in that year, is making a concerted effort for both.

"I think we have a very good chance," said Art Lentz, executive director of the U.S. Olympic Committee. "This is the first time we have really thrown our full weight behind getting the Games."

"We have a good jump on the other countries."

The Winter Olympics were last held in the United States in 1960 when Squaw Valley, Calif., was host but the California resort won out without the full support of the U.S. Committee.

"It was just chance," Lentz said. Summer Games were staged in Los Angeles in 1932.

Chief competition for the Winter Games is expected from Banff, Canada, which missed out by a single vote when the 1972 carnival was awarded to Sapporo, Japan.

Los Angeles, San Francisco, Detroit and Philadelphia are chief bidders for the Summer Games.

Denver won out over three other American snow resorts—Lake Placid, N.Y., Salt Lake City and Seattle—Sunday in bidding for the official backing of the U.S. Olympic Committee's Board of Directors.

Salt Lake City and Seattle were eliminated after the first two ballots. Denver won on the third ballot, 26 to 17 over Lake Placid.

Three governors—Nelson Rockefeller of New York, John Love of Colorado and Calvin Hampton of Utah—made pitches for their states. Mayor J. D. Braman headed the Seattle delegation.

"We have wonderful facilities and a world of experience for staging international events," Colorado's Governor Love said. "I think we are capable of doing a great job."

Denver's presentation called for an outlay of $13.7 million, the state and federal governments to provide $4 million and the rest to be raised by ticket sales, television and concessions.

Most of the visiting athletes would be housed at the University of Denver, with its 2,500 beds. Bears Stadium west of downtown Denver would have its capacity raised from 38,000 to 50,000 for opening and closing ceremonies.

The Denver Arena, the Coliseum and the Broadmoor Skating Club in Colorado Springs would be used for speed skating, ice hockey and figure skating. The main skiing activity would be in the Loveland Basin, with an elevation of 13,010.

Bahama Auto Racing Has New Champ

By BEN FUNK
Associated Press Sports Writer
FREEPORT, Bahamas (AP) — The new champion of Grand Bahama auto racing is Tony Jeffries, a slender South African who is a mechanic by trade, and a man who dreams of becoming the road racing champion of the world.

Fighting off an early challenge from Americans and a late rush by a pack of Austrians, the 26-year-old Jeffries roared to victory Sunday in the Grand Prix of Formula V and carried off his biggest jackpot in six years of racing, a $10,000 prize.

When he won by the close margin of 17 seconds over the Austrian Formula V champion, Dieter Quester, the black-haired South African knew he had been in a fight every inch of the way.

John Ryan of Griffin, Ga., gave Jeffries a battle for 100 miles and then the Austrians moved up to his tailpipe to push him for the last 100.

"The Americans drive too hard," said Jeffries, who calls Johannesburg his home but works for Capital Motors, a garage in Pretoria. "I had to set a faster pace than I thought would be necessary."

Broyles Will Replace Staff in January

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Frank Broyles, head football coach at the University of Arkansas, announced Saturday that Johnny Majors had taken assistant coach Gordon Smith with him to Iowa State.

Majors, formerly an assistant on Broyles' staff, recently took over as head coach at Iowa State. Smith handled the Razorbacks' receivers and offensive ends during the last two years.

Smith joined Broyles' staff in 1965 after playing tight end for five years with the Minnesota Vikings.

Overt Johnson is the only member of Broyles' offensive staff still at Arkansas. Broyles says he doesn't plan to replace Majors or Smith until mid-January.

State Loses to East Tennessee

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — East Tennessee State University pulled away in the final ten minutes and dealt Arkansas State University its sixth straight loss 105-75 here Saturday night.

The Buccaneers led 53-34 at the half but ASU cut the advantage to 67-57 with 10:38 left in the game. East Tennessee outscored ASU 38-18 the rest of the way.

Harley Swift led the Buccaneers with 19 points. Richard Arnold scored 15. Ernie Sims and Worley Ward contributed 14 each and Leroy Fisher added 13. ASU's Mike Burk led all scorers with 25 points and Dave Renn had 17 for the Indians.

affected by the storm.

In many areas, deep snow immobilized tracked snow vehicles and other heavy equipment.

There were reports 150 to 200 persons might be marooned in the Pinon, Ariz., area in the northeast section of the reservation. A helicopter, flying from Nellis Air Force Base, Nev., reported seeing mirrors on the ground in the region, signaling for assistance.

The Air Force moved into Window Rock during the weekend to fly helicopters with food and medical assistance. Bad weather had curtailed the rescue operation.

Eight C-119 transports dropped an estimated 40,000 pounds of hay on the stricken Hopi reservation in central Arizona, which borders the Navajo area.

"We've got to get the people where they can take care of themselves," Adams said. "The Indian people have lived in hard country all of their lives. They have the ability to survive. They know what to do."

The shepherd's death was one of several caused by the massive storm in the Southwest during the weekend. Three Ft. Bliss, Tex., soldiers died when a chartered bus carrying service men home on Christmas leave overturned on an icy highway east of El Paso, Tex.

Other deaths included two occupants of a single-engine plane which crashed onto a central New Mexico mountainside during a snow storm. The victims were Doss Maner, the pilot, of Alamogordo, N.M., and Alex Padilla, of Albuquerque, N.M.

AM&N Proves Too Much for LRU Five

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas AM&N missed its 107-point game average but had little trouble defeating Little Rock University 106-73 here Saturday.

It was the sixth straight victory for the Golden Lions who led 50-34 at the half.

James Wilson paced the Lions with 19 points. Charles Hentz scored 14 while Doug Young and Gerald Luckett added 13 each.

Donnie Branscum led LRU with 21 points. Jerry Brinegar scored 17 and Richard Green added 16.

Holt, Ward Announce Candidacy

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Frank Holt, 57, of Little Rock, who resigned from the Arkansas Supreme Court last year to run for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, announced Saturday that he would be a candidate next year for the Supreme Court seat of Associate Justice Paul Ward, who already has announced that he will not seek re-election.

Holt is the second person to announce as a Democratic Primary candidate for the seat, Chancellor Thomas F. Butt of Fayetteville said Wednesday he would run.

Chancellor Lawrence E. Dawson of Pine Bluff said last month that he would run for a Supreme Court position "if there should be an opening," but he hasn't made any subsequent announcement.

Chief Justice Carlton Harris also comes up for re-election next year, but hasn't announced his plans.

Supreme Court terms are for eight years. The salaries of associate justices are $20,000 a year. The chief justice earns

Holt ran second to one of his former colleagues, Jim Johnson, in the seven-man Democratic Primary race last year and was beaten by Johnson in a runoff. Johnson also had resigned from the high court to make the race.

"I am confident that the lawyers and the litigants they represented will attest to the fact that as a judge, I treated all who came before the court with fairness, impartiality and courtesy," Holt said in his prepared statement. "I hope to again serve the people of the state as a member of their high court."

Holt's 15,000-vote loss to Johnson in the runoff primary marked his first political defeat. He previously had served three terms as prosecuting attorney and one term as attorney general.

Holt was elected to the Supreme Court in 1960 to complete the term of the late J. S. Holt, his cousin. He was unopposed when he ran for a full eight-year term in 1964.

He has been engaged in the private practice of law since last year.

Ancient Bridge Folds Up Under Modern Traffic

The disaster at Point Pleasant, W. Va., where a 40-year-old suspension bridge collapsed and scores of auto travelers drowned in the Ohio River, points up a potential danger that lurks throughout the older sections of our highway system.

We assume bridges are "forever" — and forget that today's traffic is perhaps a hundred times greater than the load which bridges of 40 years ago were designed to carry.

According to news accounts Point Pleasant's ancient suspension bridge had 75 cars on it when the structure collapsed. Passenger cars alone, not counting trucks, would have accounted for a gross load above 150 tons. The death toll won't be known until the wrecked cars are recovered from the river. With but one car dredged up so far the total dead is 13.

Obviously our officialdom has been lax in checking bridge capacities as the number of automobiles has grown fantastically in the 20th Century. No engineering report has been issued as yet on the Point Pleasant disaster, but as everyone knows a suspension bridge is no safer than the anchors at either end which secure the supporting cables. Either the anchors pulled away from the bank, or old-age rotted out the cables — the decisive factor being traffic overload.

hindsight is better than foresight, and now we know someone long ago should have critically examined that old bridge and either condemned it or drastically reduced the number of vehicles permitted to be on it at any one time.

Many of our readers will recall a suspension bridge disaster of 30 years ago near Spokane, Wash. But unlike today's disaster, the Spokane structure was faulty from the day it was constructed, yet, while a sensational collapse, the Spokane disaster resulted in little or no loss of life. The bridge had always swung sideways and the roadbed "rippled" in high wind. On one stormy night it swung unusually wide and ripped itself to pieces. An amateur movie photographer, standing a "death watch" when all the professional newsmen cameramen had gone to bed, got the disaster on film and made a fortune selling his reel to the professionals.

But there have been bridge disasters identical to the one at Point Pleasant — and as a cub reporter at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., I happened to cover one. Wilkes-Barre is on the Susquehanna River and west of the main river bridge the road to the suburbs is multi-lane Market St., with a series of concrete relief bridges to allow for a surge when overflow exactly the same setup you find on U.S. 57 in the overflow area west of the Fulton Red River bridge.

One day at supper-time — when traffic was fortunately light, a young man and his wife and child were driving home in their roadster, and one of these old relief bridges suddenly let go and pitched them to their deaths.

The bridge had been built when there was virtually no auto traffic. The road leading to it had been improved, strengthened, and widened, cars multiplied by the thousands — but apparently no one thought about looking into the engineering behind the old bridge — and one night it gave up the ghost under the weight of a single car.

It was my first big news story as a cub reporter. I talked to scores of officials, including engineers. My findings were an unpleasant surprise — a report that was unforgotten, although 40 years ago.

Shielded by Rainfall the Cong Has Built Huge New Oil Depot

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Shielded by rainy-season weather that has hampered U.S. air raids, North Vietnam has assembled a huge new oil depot filled with thousands of fuel drums, U.S. government sources say.

The new fuel dump — apparently a key one in supporting the truck movement of war supplies toward South Vietnam — is said to be only two miles south of Haiphong.

Because it lies so close to a population center, sources said, the oil depot would be attacked only if U.S. pilots could see it clearly and bomb visually. This restriction would preclude radar bombing through overcast.

A month-long period of heavy rains over North Vietnam broke last week and U.S. bombers have been concentrating on knocking out bridges and communication links close to Hanoi and Haiphong as apparent first priority. The rainy season is expected to last several more months, so the good bombing weather may not continue for long.

During the monsoon rains and heavy cloud cover, the North Vietnamese reportedly have repaired most of the bridges, railroads, highways and airfields which were pounded by U.S. bombers and fighter-bombers during intense, wide-ranging raids last summer and early fall.

The new oil depot is reported to be close to a stream which the North Vietnamese have dredged recently so that oil tankers can move out of Haiphong harbor and partway up the river where they discharge their loads of fuel drums into barges.

U.S. intelligence is aware of considerable barge-building activity. It includes the assembling of metal barges which evidently have come into Vietnam in prefabricated sections.

This all coincides with a continuing shift of big amounts of the war supplies and equipment from truck to barge movement, sources said.

of Haiphong have been rebuilt.

It was reported that fertilizer, once a major commodity entering North Vietnam, no longer is showing up on the docks to any important extent. Instead, foodstuffs represent a growing proportion of the goods and material being unloaded at Haiphong and other ports.

Officials said recently that food shipments are receiving top priority, along with oil products, in unloading at Haiphong. This has suggested a food problem in North Vietnam.

The Communists have been diverting some cargo ships to Hon Gai, North Vietnam's second largest port, about 18 miles northwest of Haiphong.

The United States has never acknowledged any strikes against the harbor facilities at Hon Gai.

In early December, Peking's New China News Agency claimed U.S. warplanes "savagely attacked" a Chinese freighter anchored in Hon Gai, damaging the ship and wounding eight crewmen. The Pentagon declined comment on the claim.

Navajo Tribe, Rocked by Worst Storm, Hopes for Break in Weather

By HOWARD GRAVES
Associated Press Writer

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (AP) — The Navajo tribe, rocked by the worst winter storm in memory of old-timers, hopes for a break in the weather to reach thousands of marooned by snow up to four feet deep.

"The situation is pretty terrible," said Frank Chambers, Navajo tribal police assistant superintendent.

Bureau of Indian Affairs officials estimated 60,000 Navajos are in varying degrees of distress from the storm that struck the reservation last Tuesday night.

Air Force cargo planes and helicopters were prepared to drop food, shelter, clothes and medical supplies for the Indians. Doctors were to accompany the helicopters.

"The first thing we are going to worry about is the people,"

This was the scene early Saturday when a truckload of articles donated by local residents was about to leave for Benton. The wide variety of items were given to the patients at the Arkansas State Hospital.

This very worthy cause was headed by Sheriff Jimmie Griffin, Fire Chief James Cobb and City Police Chief A. S. Willis. They expressed appreciation to everyone for the help given. The truck was furnished by Perry Campbell.

More Raids on Enemy Cost 3 Jets

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — American planes continued raids on North Vietnam's heartland for the fifth straight day today, and the U.S. Command reported the loss of three jets Sunday — two of them downed by Communist MIG interceptors.

The U.S. Command did not immediately reveal details of the raids today, but Tass, the Soviet news agency, said American planes made a "massive raid" on Hanoi's northeastern district.

American spokesmen reported one MIG probably downed by U.S. fighters in the several swirling air battles over Hanoi Sunday. The American casualties were an Air Force F105 Thunderchief and an F4 Phantom brought down by a MIG21 and a MIG17. The three crew members aboard the two American planes were missing.

The third American plane downed, another Phantom, was hit by ground fire over North Vietnam's southern panhandle. One of its two crewmen was killed and one was rescued.

Including Sunday's casualties and a Phantom shot down Saturday by a MIG21, U.S. records list 36 American planes and 99 MIGs shot down in aerial combat so far in the war. A total of 763 U.S. warplanes have been reported lost over the North.

No Hope for Australian Leader

By JOHN FITZGERALD
Associated Press Writer

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — The disappearance of Prime Minister Harold E. Holt while swimming in the surf threatens Australia with political crisis and possibly the breakup of the coalition that has governed the country since 1949.

There was almost no hope that Holt could have survived the rip tides that swallowed him up Sunday while he swam off Portsea, 37 miles south of Melbourne.

Bad weather forced suspension of the massive sea and air search today. The tides off Portsea have claimed three other swimmers in the last 10 years without yielding their bodies.

Deputy Prime Minister John McEwen, the leader of the Country party, took over the helm until Holt's rival party, the larger member of the coalition, elects a new party leader and prime minister.

Federal Treasurer William McMahon, the deputy party leader, was in line to succeed Holt. But observers in Canberra believed his election would drive the Country party out of the coalition because he and McEwen disagree on a number of key issues.

Defense Minister Allen Fairhall and Foreign Minister Paul Hasluck were also considered likely candidates for the Liberal leadership.

Governor-General Lord Casey was expected to announce the presumption of Holt's death Tuesday, although the prime minister's press secretary, Tony Eggleton, told newsmen today: "We are all hanging onto a shred of hope that Mr. Holt is alive."

Holt, 59, was an excellent swimmer and skindiver. He was wearing swim trunks and beach shoes as he walked from his maroon Pontiac to his favorite spot.

Court Rules Davis Is Ineligible to Direct Arkansas State Police

More Bodies Recovered From River

By ROBERT E. MILLER
Associated Press Writer

POINT PLEASANT, W.Va. (AP) — Working in a light rain, a water-borne crane probing the Ohio River's depths latched on to a crumpled car early today and brought up three more bodies in the grim search for victims of Friday's bridge collapse.

They brought to 16 the number of known dead. There were 41 persons reported missing.

The car was one of scores of vehicles that tumbled like playtoys off the bridge when the suspension span collapsed into the murky river.

The bodies of two adults and a child pried out of the car's twisted metal remains were taken to a temporary morgue in a state armory.

They were not immediately identified. Sitting on a barge in the river, the crane also pulled up one huge chunk of the bridge superstructure this morning. It was placed on the barge. It was believed that superstructure pieces were being hauled up in an effort to reach vehicles trapped under the debris.

The 1,500-foot-wide section of the river between Ohio and West Virginia yielded eight bodies from four cars and a truck when the derricks pulled them out Sunday. The other five bodies were recovered Friday, a few hours after the suspension bridge collapsed under the weight of rush hour and Christmas shoppers' traffic.

Forecast of more than one inch of rain for the Point Pleasant area brought with it the fear that the river's level would rise and increase its current. This would seriously hamper divers in their efforts to reach cars crushed under the bridge's superstructure.

Of the 13 dead, only one remained unidentified. That was the body of a man taken from the cab of a trailer-truck yanked from the river Sunday afternoon.

The big 40-year-old bridge, a major link between the two states, crumpled into the Ohio River 80 feet below just after 5 p.m. Friday. The center span of the bridge disappeared, leaving only the approach ramps on both sides and concrete piers jutting above the river's surface.

Criticism of Catlett Blocked

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Roy Lee Hight of Little Rock, resident of the Young Democrat Clubs of Arkansas, blocked criticism Saturday of state Democratic Party Chairman Leon Catlett.

Some members of the Young Democrats executive committee wanted to introduce resolutions disassociating their organization from the controversial television series "Info '68" and calling on Catlett to submit his resignation if he didn't plan to call a meeting of the Democratic State Committee.

Hight ruled that the resolutions couldn't be introduced because there wasn't a quorum present. When one of the dissident Young Democrats attempted to suspend the rules, Hight ruled him out of order.

David Ivy of Hendrix College, who had attempted to suspend the rules, called the incident "an arbitrary disposition by the president."

Decision of Justices Was 6 to 1

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court ruled today that Lynn A. Davis is not eligible to serve as the Police director because he had not lived the required time in the state before assuming the position.

The court, in a 6-1 opinion with Justice Paul Ward dissenting, rejected Davis' contention that he was eligible because it had always been his intention to return to Arkansas while he was working with the FBI out of the state.

The high court's decision reversed a ruling upholding Davis' eligibility by Circuit Judge Warren E. Wood of Little Rock.

Davis was declared ineligible under a 1945 law that requires the director to have been a resident of Arkansas for "at least 10 years next preceding his appointment." Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller appointed Davis director effective Aug. 1.

Rockefeller has said that if the court rules against Davis, he will include a bill in his call for the special legislative session he plans in February to make Davis eligible. In the meantime, it is expected that Davis will receive another administrative appointment to another job.

Davis, a controversial figure who spent almost 24 hours in jail Dec. 5-6 because he refused to name a confidential informant during a Pulaski County Grand Jury gambling investigation, said he would have no comment on the decision until later in the day. He was in the courtroom when the decision was issued.

Rockefeller was in New York and unavailable for comment. He was not expected back in the state until Tuesday night or early Wednesday.

Local Group Hears Man From UNCLE

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)

—Robert Vaughn, a member of the Dissenting Democrats organization and star of "The Man From U.N.C.L.E." television show, said here Saturday night that Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., is "one of the great consciences of America today."

Vaughn, a doctoral candidate in political science at the University of Southern California, also spoke against the Vietnam war. He said the United States was the largest power in Asia while China had no troops outside her own borders.

"Who is challenging whom?" he asked.

Vaughn said he feared destruction would result from a lack of understanding of other nations and advocated a "renaissance of the human psyche."

Vaughn also warned against "politicians spouting the stale clichés about 'the yellow peril' and unthinking people adequately agitated by paranoia who react as Pavlov's dogs."

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Whitman, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McFarly and Bud, spent the weekend in Fayetteville where they attended Symposium '68, Friday night. Glen Edwin Norris, USMC, brother of Mrs. Whitman spoke on Vietnam along with Major Pete Watkins. Saturday night they heart Vaughn.

Bill Elbert, Jonesboro, editor of the Razorback, presented a watch to Student Body President Mack McFarly, "in appreciation for his work on Symposium '68". He said more than 1,000 students had contributed to purchase of the gift.

Purcell Ruling Gives Odds to Democrats

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—A last-minute opinion from Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell, a Democrat, has increased the odds that a Democrat will be elected to the Arkansas House seat left vacant by the death of state Rep. L. H. Autry of Burdette.

Two Democrats and a Republican had announced as candidates for the post, which is to be filled in a special election set for Jan. 30. Under Purcell's ruling, only one of the Democrats—Autry's widow—has qualified as a candidate.

Since the county committee of both political parties already had agreed that their candidates would run in a single election, rather than separate primaries, there now will be no chance of two Democrats splitting the Democratic vote, which would have given the Republican a better chance of winning.

L. H. Wunderlich, chairman of the Democratic County Committee and the Mississippi County Election Commission, said the commission met earlier in the week and, acting on a verbal opinion from Purcell, agreed to set Jan. 2 as the filing deadline.

Wunderlich said he received a call from the attorney general's office Friday, however, saying that the deadline was midnight Friday.

Only Ed Allison of Blytheville, chairman of the Arkansas Young Republican League, had filed with the secretary of state's office at noon. Allison, who had once successfully against Autry last fall, said Saturday that he had filed on advice from his attorneys.

Wunderlich said that as soon as he received the attorney general's call, he set out to notify Mrs. Autry and the other announced candidates, Charles Moore, a Loxley farmer, and he said he reached Mrs.

Autry at 3:30 p.m., and that she was able to beat the filing deadline. Moore wasn't reached until several hours later, Wunderlich said, and did not file before midnight.

Wunderlich had said before Moore announced that Mrs. Autry probably would be the Democratic candidate.

The seat is one of four in the 18th District, which is comprised solely of Mississippi County.

Faubus Vows He Could Fix Finances

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Former Gov. Orval Faubus has said that he could straighten out the state's current financial problems, and Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Saturday that he had no doubt about it.

"When my predecessor made the remark that he could come back and straighten all of this out, well, he certainly ought to be able to, because he created the situation," Rockefeller said. "Regrettably, he didn't check with either me or the legislature during the session, so we are in this bind."

"We are spending on reserves now, and it was fairly understood when we presented the budget to the legislature. The legislature did not have enough facts."

"I don't want to be totally critical. I think there was some irresponsibility in development of the budget. But we did not have the facts that we have available to us today in terms of financial strife the previous administration left the state in."

The governor made his comments in an interview shortly before he left for New York, where he and his family held their annual Christmas reunion Sunday.

Wiretapping Safeguards Decreed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today decreed safeguards for private telephone conversations from government eavesdropping.

Specifically excluding national security cases, the court said in a 7-1 opinion that unless electronic surveillance is carried out by officials in a limited, judicially approved way it violates the individual's rights under the 4th Amendment.

Significantly, Justice Potter Stewart said in the decision, such is the case whether or not the officials physically trespass. With the ruling, the high court overturned the conviction of Charles Katz, a Los Angeles handicapper, whose conversations from two public telephone booths were recorded by federal agents.

The decision was important in two other regards.

In the first place, it said the protection of a person's general right to privacy, which Stewart defined as "this right to be let alone by other people," is like the protection of a citizen's property and his life, left largely to the law of individual states.

Secondly, it said the 4th Amendment's protection pertains to the person and not a given place or area.

Explaining, Stewart wrote: "What a person knowingly exposes to the public, even in his own home or office is not a subject of 4th Amendment protection."

"But what he seeks to preserve as private, even in an area accessible to the public, may be constitutionally protected."

The federal agents had taped a recorder and two microphones to the top of two public phone booths Katz used on Sunset

Bldg., in February 1965 to phone betting information to Boston. Later the agents arrested him, Katz was convicted of illegal interstate transmission of bets and wages and fined $33.

Says Disorders Will Cost U.S. Heavily

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., a member of the President's Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders, says Congress will have to spend a lot of money to bring relief to America's riot-torn slums, likening the problem to the Vietnam war.

Brooke—the Senate's only Negro member—said the Vietnam war costs $2.5 billion or more a month and added: "But this is also a war in the United States, it is an important war, and this war must be won as well and I think we are going to have to spend the money necessary in order to win that war."

Another member of the civil disorders commission, Sen. Fred R. Harris, R-Okla., said "It would be terribly wrong to be surprised again next summer as we have been in every summer past" if riots break out. He said the social conditions causing the riots in the past have not been changed.

"We have got to learn from experience a lot better than we have in the past," Harris said.

Brooke and Harris commented Sunday on NBC's "Meet the Press."

Brooke said the commission will have recommendations for Congress in its final report, due in February, which will include spending, but did not detail them. However, he expressed hope Congress would act in its second session of the 90th Congress, beginning Jan. 15, even though inflation fears and Vietnam spending made the Congress budget-conscious in the first session.

soon weather—which began last Thursday—has permitted the heavy raids on key North Vietnamese targets after a one-month lull which permitted the Communists to rebuild shattered facilities.

North Vietnam's carefully hoarded MIGs apparently were out in greater numbers Sunday than in the previous days of the renewed assault, when only four to six of the Red interceptors would dart in and out of American formations.

Personal Income Takes Jump

WASHINGTON (AP)—Personal income took its biggest jump in more than two years during November, with rising wages and salaries accounting for the bulk of the gain, the Commerce Department reported today.

Income rose by $5.8 billion at an annual rate during the month to reach a record pace at $641.7 billion. It was the biggest advance since September 1965.

The department said wages and salaries increased by $5.4 billion and only $2 billion of this stemmed from the ending of automobile and other strikes which had depressed payrolls the previous two months.

Continued economic expansion accounted for most of the gain in payrolls, the department added.

One Way to Get Mayor

NEW YORK (AP)—How does one go about getting the mayor of the nation's largest city to pay attention to him?

Jim Lattimore's approach Sunday night was sitting down on the street in front of Mayor John V. Lindsay's moving car.

The car came to a stop. Lattimore waved a sign reading: "We want more public housing on the West Side."

Lattimore, who said he is president of the Riverside Democratic Club, was led away by guards from a nearby television station.

French Again Expected to Block Britain

By CARL HARTMAN Associated Press Writer BRUSSELS (AP)—Britain's friends in the European Common Market launched a two-day effort today to open negotiations on Britain's membership application. President Charles de Gaulle was expected to balk at them again.

Foreign ministers or their representatives from all the member countries—West Germany, Italy, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg—were assembled for the meeting of the Common Market Council. Britain was not invited.

Five of the six members want to start negotiations with Britain, Ireland, Norway and Denmark, and the sooner the better. Only France is opposed. But De Gaulle has insisted on keeping a veto for such matters, and the others have failed to budge him.

The five say they want a clear answer by Tuesday from the French on whether negotiations can start so that everyone can see who is responsible.

West German Foreign Minister Willy Brandt has threatened to hold up action on a matter of vital interest to France, relations between the Common Market and Africa. Belgium is reported delaying an order for French Mirage planes to add to the pressure.

Chances are good for a compromise that would delay matters again, although the British say they want a clear answer too.

Beginning Jan. 1, French For-

eigh Minister Maurice Couve de Murville becomes chairman of the council. Little progress can be expected for the six months he will hold the job. He was expected to stand firm today against setting a date for negotiations.

Jean Rey, president of the market's executive commission, predicted Friday that any crisis must end in three or four months with a compromise on the prospective new members.

"So why not save a crisis and make a package deal now?" he asked.

Well informed sources said he was working on a proposal. It could include the opening of talks without making clear if they were designed to lead to full membership for Britain or not.

MORE BODIES (from page one)

said that "you've got to worry about metal falling on you." Ray spent several hours in the river's murky depths. Sunday and said "It's real hairy and dangerous down there. You can't see your hand on the face plate of your mask. It's so dark, pitch black."

The tangled mass of the bridge's superstructure, lying atop the cars and trucks in 40 feet of water "is so shaky I could move the beams by hand, I dropped through the mess of steel and it started to slide," Ray said.

Another problem stemming from the disaster was that river traffic along the Ohio was choked and backed up for miles. Col. William L. Falk of the Army engineers estimated that 60,000 tons of cargo was stalled because the river was closed above and below Point Pleasant.

The cars pulled from the water Sunday reflected the tremendous impact which existed when the span collapsed. All were torn and smashed. The engine dropped from one as it was lifted. The top of another, which held two bodies, was peeled off.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said traffic on Route 7, which parallels the river for miles, was backed up for 4 1/2 miles Sunday afternoon. Troopers estimated the crowds of the curious at between 10,000 and 15,000. But all were kept away from the river's edge so as not to hamper the search.

From verbal notes on the Rotary-sponsored hospital for crippled adults in Memphis to musical notes by the Hope Junior High Choir and the capella Choir from Hope Senior High, the Hope Rotary Club had a most note-worthy program on Friday, December 15 at the Town and Country.

Rotarian L. T. Lawrence, who is on the hospital board, made a few remarks in an annual appeal for support of the institution. Then, under the direction of Mrs. Richard Keyton, the Junior High School Choir sang "What Do You Bear?", "I Saw Three Ships," and "The Sleigh," accompanied by Ellen Turner at the piano.

Five numbers sung by the capella Choir under the direction of Rotarian Richard Keyton were "Linger at Calvary," "In the Bleak Mid-winter," "Infant Holy," "I Wonder As I Wander," and "Go Tell It On The Mountain." These selections and others were presented at the Christmas Concert in the Hope High School Auditorium Sunday, December 17.

President Clyde Fouse welcomed the members, guest performers, visiting Rotarian George Sharp of Nashville, and another guest, Dale Franks.

Four Killed in Arkansas Accidents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Four persons died on the Arkansas highways during the weekend, including two who were killed when their vehicles crashed into bridge railings.

State Police identified the victims as Margie Lee Parnell, 75, of Warren, William Porter, 46, of Pine Bluff, Mike Staton, 17, of Fort Smith and Homer Lee McGinnis, 62, of North Little Rock.

Officers said the Parnell woman was killed Sunday afternoon in a one-car accident about 1 1/2 miles west of Warren on Arkansas 8. Authorities said the victim apparently lost control of her vehicle and hit the south railing of the Saline River bridge.

Port was killed Sunday afternoon in a one-car crash about 3 1/2 miles north of Pine Bluff on U.S. 79. Officers said Porter's vehicle was traveling south when it struck the north end of the Arkansas River bridge head-on.

Staton was killed early Saturday morning when the car in which he was riding crashed into a utility pole in the Fort Smith city limits. Officers said Staton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Staton of Fort Smith, was a passenger in a car driven by James A. Ward IV, 18, also of Fort Smith.

McGinnis was killed Saturday morning when his vehicle, which was traveling south on U.S. 67, struck the left rear wheel of a northbound tractor-trailer. Officers said the accident occurred in the Tuckerham city limits.

W. Va., who represents the area, toured the site for a second time late Sunday and said the reason for the bridge's collapse "may never be known."

The congressman is making frequent trips here to speed up the federal aid process and act as a semi-official liaison with the White House.

Tax, Social Security Are Both Up

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The new Social Security benefit and tax scales—both up—add fuel to an argument about the retirement system that has been hot for some time and gets hotter as the average population gets younger.

Critics of the system say it is loaded against the young worker, that the wage earner starting out now or still in his early productive years is being taxed unfairly to pay benefits to those already retired or well on their way to retirement, who paid in much less.

Defenders say everyone, statistically speaking, stands to get a lot more out of Social Security than he puts in.

The mathematics involved are complex and the social and economic arguments finely drawn. Skipping the philosophical dispute, here is an effort to simplify the mathematics, rounding all figures:

Suppose a young man starts work Jan. 1, 1968, and continues until Jan. 1, 2013, at which time

HOPE (ARK) STAR, Printed by Offset
he is 65 and retires. Suppose further he starts out at $4,000 a year and gets annual raises of $1,000 until he passes the $7,800-a-year mark—the limit on which the payroll tax is levied.

Under the new rates, he would pay in a little less than $20,000 during his working life.

Of this total, however, almost $3,000 would have gone into Medicare, giving him and his wife hospitalization rights in old age. Whether he ever actually recovered the equivalent of these contributions would, of course, depend on his and his wife's health.

Of the remaining $17,000 it is generally agreed that something must be charged off for the insurance value of Social Security during a man's working life.

If he had died leaving minor children, there would have been payments for them. If he had become disabled, he would have received payments.

Social Security values this insurance at 28 per cent of the contribution. Others put the figure as low as 20 per cent. Taking 25 per cent as a working figure reduces the $17,000 to $12,750 for retirement.

At the new benefit rates, the retired worker and his wife of the same age would receive $233 a month in 2013. So a couple would recoup the principal amount of the contribution in almost exactly three and a half years, or by the time they were 68 1/2. An unmarried retired worker would take half again as long to do this.

Social Security actuaries say the life expectancy of a man who has reached 65 is 13 1/2 years and that he can expect his wife to outlive him by five years.

These calculations don't take into account interest that might have been earned or capital gains that might have been realized by the worker if he had been able to keep and invest his Social Security contributions. But they also don't take into account the virtual certainty that

Monday, December 18, 1967

Congress, which has made numerous changes in Social Security in the past 30 years, will make more during the next 45.

These probably will be in the direction of greater benefits, tending to give a mathematical break to the retired and the older active workers.

The calculations moreover don't take into account the employer's contributions, which are equal to those of the employee. These contributions provide the cushion enabling the system to broaden and, generally speaking, to pay the individual contributor more than he has put in.

James Marlow is on vacation.
